COLLEGE TO CAREER

COLLEGE TO CAREER FOR GEOGRAPHY MAJORS

Are you curious about career opportunities for geography majors? Wondering how to prepare now for professional life after college? We are here to help! Talk with an adviser about resources available to you as a geography major and read through our information on career exploration, career preparation, and internships and experiential learning.

Your education in geography will prepare you for a number of exciting opportunities. Geography teaches you to think critically, spatially, and analytically -- all skills that employers want. Our students find positions in non-profit organizations, business, data visualization, geographic information systems, and community engagement. Want a career as unique as you are? Our students really shine when they apply their unique skillsets to novel forms of employment. Geography doesn't just prepare you for a life of maps and apps, but for any number of exciting careers.
