RESOURCES FOR TEACHING

We are committed to fostering safe and inclusive spaces for teaching and learning. We recognize that multiple dimensions of difference can influence inclusion and learning experiences in the classroom, and that spaces of exclusivity can be both invisible and intersectional. The resources here provide guiding ideas and specific practices to help promote welcoming and inclusive spaces for teaching and learning.

- Best Practices for Building Ethical Pedagogies (from 2012 workshop)
- Creating Safe Spaces for Learning (practices developed at Fall 2013 workshop)
- Teaching Resources from Portland Community College's Illumination Project
- Teaching Tolerance
  - Simple exercises but could inspire a more sophisticated student-designed activity.
- Microaggressions Project
- Queer Teaching
  - Blog sharing advice, experiences, stories, anecdotes, ideas, and reflections. On hiatus but archived posts remain available.
- 5 Efforts Toward Creating a Feminist Classroom
- Queer Pedagogies Suggested Reading List
- Intergroup Dialogue, Education and Action (IDEA) Center
- UW Diversity Minor
- UW Center for Experiential Learning and Diversity
- UW Dream Project
  - College access program, UW undergrads can connect through service learning.

RECOMMENDED READING
